28 Elul, 5776 / October 1, 2016
Triennial Cycle III: Deut. 29:9 - 30:20
Humash Etz Hayim, page 1165
Haftarah: Isaiah 61:10-63:9, page 1180

1. (Deut. 31:7-13) I am 120 years old today. On the last day of his life, Moses publicly transfers leadership of the nation to Joshua; and commands the priests to read the Torah before the entire people of Israel assembled at the end of the Sabbatical year.
2. (31:14-21) And now, write down this song. A song that serves as a prophetic witness for the future if you will violate the covenant.
3. (31:22-30) Moses writes down the words of this Torah, and commands that it be placed in the Ark of the Covenant, knowing that his people will need a constant reminder of the covenant.

Painting a Sukkah of Peace

An event of CBD's A Place for Women

Wednesday, October 5, 2016, 7:30 – 9:30 p.m.

Elizabeth Batson guides us in an evening of personal exploration through painting. We'll delve into our notions of and hopes for personal security, peace and growth in the New Year. All you need is openness to self-exploration; no painting experience required. Evening includes painting, socializing, sipping wine and nibbling sweets. $7 for CBD women and teens; $10 for community members. RSVP at www.beth-david.org/RSVP or call the office at 408-257-3333.

Book Discussion Group Red Cavalry

By Isaac Babel, led by Alex Drukarev

Saturday, October 8, 2016, 1:30 - 3:00 p.m.

One of the great masterpieces of Russian literature, The Red Cavalry cycle retains the shocking freshness that made Babel's reputation when the stories were first published in the 1920s. Using his own experiences as a journalist and propagandist with the Red Army during the war against Poland, Babel brings to life an astonishing cast of characters from this violent era of early Soviet history, including commissars, colonels, Cossacks, and peasants. And among them is a bespectacled, Jewish writer/intellectual, observing it all and trying to establish his role in the new Russia.
