

American Jews and Israel: Moving Forward Together

Featuring

ARI SHAVIT

Senior Correspondent at Haaretz Newspaper and Author of My Promised Land

This program is co-sponsored by AIPAC and Congregation Beth Am together with Congregation Shir Hadash, Congregation Beth David, Congregation Kol Emeth, Congregation Etz Chayim, Congregation Beth Jacob, Peninsula Sinai Congregation, Peninsula Temple Beth El, Peninsula Temple Sholom and the Jewish Community Relations Council of San Francisco, the Peninsula, Marin, Sonoma, Alameda and Contra Costa Counties.

Wednesday, November 9, 2016

Check-in & Security 6:30 p.m. • Program 7:00-8:00 p.m.

Congregation Beth Am

26790 Arastradero Road, Los Altos Hills, CA

To register go to: www.aipac.org/BethAm. No onsite registration.

For questions please contact the San Francisco AIPAC Office at (415) 989-4140 or NorthernCaliforniaEvents@aipac.org.

Ari Shavit is a long time columnist for the leading Israeli daily, Haaretz, and a prominent commentator on Israeli public television. Mr. Shavit has become one of the strongest voices in Israel's public arena in recent years. In an elegant, eloquent yet daring way, he challenges the dogmas of both the Right and the Left, while giving unique insight into the overall Israeli condition. With the outstanding success of his unique non-fiction work, My Promised Land, and his current efforts on American college campuses, he brings his exceptional message to international audiences.

Born in Rehovot, Israel, in 1957, Shavit served as a paratrooper in the IDF and studied philosophy at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. He has written for several Israeli publications over the years and currently serves on the editorial board of Haaretz. He is also a leading commentator on Israel's public TV Channel 1.